The Grand Opening

Vantec's new Turbine Warehouse, AKA 'Hachinosu' became successfully operational on the 6th January. The warehouse was completed on schedule in order to continue to provide a high quality of support to NMUK. After a very dynamic and eventful 2012, transitions are continuing smoothly into the New Year with no impact on Nissan's production.

Vantec now have full ownership of the building's interior and exterior, however continual exterior aesthetic work is happening with regard to landscaping and signage.

The 5th February will see the official opening of the building by Vantec's Japanese Officials, who are paying a visit to Vantec Europe's Washington based site to see, in person, the end product of such an extraordinary achievement.
